Science communication plays an integral role in one's scientific career. To be able to communicate your ideas effectively is both an inborn as well as practiced skill. In this context the State level Biotech Hub, North Eastern Hill University, Shillong and Wellcome Trust/DBT Alliance are jointly organizing a one-day "Science Communication workshop (SciComm101)" on June 9, 2017 at North Eastern Hill University, Shillong. The Wellcome Trust/DBT India Alliance is a joint initiative of the Wellcome Trust, UK and Department of Biotechnology, Govt. of India. The broad aim of the India Alliance is to build excellence in the Indian scientific community by supporting future leaders in the field.

About the Workshop: The workshop will provide guidance to young Indian science researchers in important written and oral communication skills while making them aware of essential ethical guidelines that must be followed by them when carrying out and reporting their research. The one-day workshop will cover interactive sessions on grant and manuscript writing, PowerPoint & poster presentation, CV and cover letter preparation and research ethics.

Who can apply: The workshop is designed for early career scientists/teachers, young Post-doctoral fellows, Senior Research students and College teachers who seek to extend their research skills in the field of Biological sciences
